Covert Invaders

Optimizing Immune System
Function and Internal Defenses

Presented by Professor Kerry Bone and Lee Carroll

Optimizing immune system function and fortifying internal defenses are vitally important goals for the modern clinician.

Professor Kerry Bone and Lee Carroll will share some of their most significant herbal insights and strategies for your clinical success.

With a strong focus on covert invaders, Kerry and Lee will explore game-changing strategies for:

- Environmental immune system challenges
- Normal auto-immune function
- Gut immune function

Presentations will include discussion of:

- Case histories
- Case study workshops
- Clinical tools and protocols to better support your patients*

Throughout the seminar there will be a strong focus on practical application and building confidence to implement your own herbal strategies.
